

renditions showed deep study and intelli-

ence of conception.

All through the listener was conscious of splendid directorship. Mr. Mason is not a man to be loosely praised, but he is one to be deeply appreciated by any community where he may take up his abiding place. Houston is blessed with many good voices and a music-loving public, and the result is a fortunate one for the city.

After the concert all the musicians and a few friends were invited into Temperance hall, where the night refreshments were served and criticism and comments and praise were to be had to the full.

This was a happy ending for a momentous evening in Houston's musical world.

Mr. Mason and the Association chairmen desire to return thanks to those who volunteered their assistance and contributed so largely to the success of the entertainment.

THE VOLUNTEER GUARD

GENERAL MAURY WRITES THAT

HE WILL BE PRESENT

On San Jacinto Day—Everything Ready for the Celebration—The Military Hall.

All doubts regarding the attendance of Adjutant General W. H. Mabry at the military celebration have been removed by the receipt of the following letter yesterday by Brigadier General Richard Cooke:

General R. Cooke, Houston:

Adjutant General's Office, State of Texas.—Austin, Texas, April 17, 1897.—Dear General: I find that I will be able accepted your kind invitation to be present but when I met you in Houston I thought I would be unable to attend.

This will add to the importance of the military department. Every member of the Texas Volunteer Guard admires the adjutant general. He has been at all times courteous to every one, and although he is very rigid as to discipline, when uniform are cast aside he cordially greets every one.

The decorations for the 21st have com-

decorated partially: Ed Kiam, Mode

A Quick Arrest.
Yesterday while T. H. Thompson was at dinner, he having left his coat in the hall, some thief came in and stole it. After dinner he went to the police station to report the theft, and while giving a description of it, a police officer brought in a negro, Robert Hopkins, who was wearing Al Thompson's coat. Hopkins had been arrested only on suspicion, and it was not known until facing the accuser that he

Revival Service.

The revival services at the Second Baptist church will continue the remainder of this week. The congregation last night was the largest of any previous meeting and there was a deep spiritual interest manifested. The service was presided over by the earnest sermon on the necessity of the spiritual birth. After the sermon a number came forward for prayer and ten were received into the church. There will be baptism some time during the week. D. Miller will remain over and there will be more services at 10 a. m., 4 p. m. and again at night.
